Key Concepts for Spiritual Growth

Gospel mission does not transpire at the initiative of any human being. Our Lord made that very plain just before His ascension: “You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be witnesses to Me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth.” Acts 1:8. The plan to leave Ur did not originate in Abraham’s mind. Moses did not issue on his own the call for freedom. Joshua did not choose to split the Jordan River. Isaiah did not pick his career as a prophet. Daniel did not invent the prophetic telescope. Esther did not choose to deliver the Jews. Peter didn’t leave the fishing net on his own. Neither did Saul become Christianity’s first great missionary on his own. In each case, the Holy Spirit made the call.

P R A Y E R, N O T D I S P A I R

Peace happens when people pray.

As you sense anxiety welling up inside you, cast it in the direction of Christ. Do so specifically and immediately.

Specific prayer creates a lighter load. Many of our anxieties are threatening because they are ill defined and vague. If we can distill the challenge into a phrase, we bring it down to size.

Find a promise that fits your problem, and build your prayer around it. These prayers of faith touch the heart of God and activate the angels of heaven. Miracles are set into motion. Your answer may not come overnight, but it will come. And you will overcome.
Isaiah 43:2, Ps. 23:4, Hebrews 13.5
