

IMPORTANT NOTICE

NEW HEALTH INSURANCE MARKETPLACE COVERAGE OPTIONS AND YOUR HEALTH COVERAGE

PART A: General Information

When key parts of the health care law take effect in 2014, most Americans will be required to have health insurance coverage or they will be subject to a tax penalty for failure to do so. There will also be a new way to buy health insurance in 2014: the Health Insurance Marketplace. To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the new Marketplace and the health coverage offered by your employer.

NOTE: The Health Care Assistance Plan ("HCAP") offered by your employer to many employees meets the affordability and minimum value standards set by the federal government. Thus, if you are eligible for the HCAP, you will not be eligible for federal tax credits at the Marketplace to help you purchase health insurance for yourself or your spouse and children who are eligible for the HCAP ("Eligible Dependents"). Thus, you will not save by purchasing coverage for you or your Eligible Dependents at the Marketplace.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?

The Marketplace is designed to help individuals find health insurance that meets their needs and fits their budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options. Some persons buying health insurance at the Marketplace will be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers their monthly premium right away, but if you are eligible for the HCAP, you and your Eligible Dependents will not be eligible for this tax credit. Open enrollment for health insurance coverage through the Marketplace begins in October 2013 for coverage starting as early as January 1, 2014. (You must enroll by December 15, 2013, for your coverage to begin on January 1, 2014.)

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?

If you are eligible for the HCAP, you will not save money by purchasing insurance in the Marketplace. However, if you are not eligible for the HCAP, you may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium when you purchase insurance through the Marketplace. The savings on your premium that you're eligible for depends on your household income. Please also note that individuals who are eligible for Medicaid or Medicare are not eligible for lower monthly premiums on any insurance purchased through the Marketplace.

Does Employer Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?

Yes. If you are eligible for the HCAP, you will not be eligible for a tax credit through the Marketplace and you and your Eligible Dependents should enroll or remain enrolled in the HCAP. If you are not eligible for the HCAP or for coverage from another employer that meets the government's affordability and minimum value standards, you might be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your monthly premium, or a reduction in certain cost-sharing provisions (like deductibles) of the insurance you purchase. If the cost of a plan from an employer that would cover an employee (and not any other members of the employee's family) is more than 9.5% of the employee's household income for the year, or if the coverage the employer provides does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, the individual may be eligible for a tax credit.¹ However, you are not eligible for this tax credit to purchase health insurance for yourself or your Eligible Dependents in the Marketplace if you are eligible for the HCAP, since HCAP coverage provides minimum value and is affordable under the federal rules.

Note: If you are eligible for the HCAP, and you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of the HCAP coverage offered by your employer, then you will lose the employer contribution made by your employer to the HCAP. Also, this employer contribution-as well as your employee contribution to employer-offered coverage- is often excluded from income for Federal and State income tax purposes. Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis.

How Can I Get More Information?

For more information about your coverage offered by your employer, please check the HCAP plan document available at www.adventistrisk.org or contact Customer Service at 1-888-276-4732 or healthcare@adventistrisk.org

The Marketplace can help you evaluate your coverage options, including your eligibility for coverage through the Marketplace and its cost. Please visit HealthCare.gov for more information, including an online application for health insurance coverage and contact information for a Health Insurance Marketplace in your area.

¹ An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs.

 Even if your employer intends your coverage to be affordable, you may still be eligible for a premium discount through the Marketplace. The Marketplace will use your household income, along with other factors, to determine whether you may be eligible for a premium discount. If, for example, your wages vary from week to week (perhaps you are an hourly employee or you work on a commission basis), if you are newly employed mid-year, or if you have other income losses, you may still qualify for a premium discount.

If you decide to shop for coverage in the Marketplace, HealthCare.gov will guide you through the process. Above is the employer information you'll enter when you visit HealthCare.gov to find out if you can get a tax credit to lower your monthly premiums.
