More than 20 works, created by children who live in the extreme poverty of Mumbai's slums. Includes watercolor landscapes, pen-and-ink drawings, mixed media, and brush paintings.

High-level professionals, celebrities, business icons — and a poet — will each donate a 15-minute online conversation with the highest bidders. Please go to the auction site for a current list.

All proceeds will be used to support the Aseema Charitable Trust in providing high-quality, secular education, and medical care to extremely indigent children in India.
