SOAR ON WINGS LIKE EAGLES

But those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary. They will walk and not be faint.

Celebrating THE LIFE OF WARREN JAMES HARDING

February 28, 1953 – December 25, 2023

Obituary

Warren James Harding, affectionately known as Warrencito and Mr. President passed away on December 25, 2023, in Santa Monica, California. He was a man of unwavering honesty and dedication, leaving behind a legacy of hard work and kindness. Warren's career was marked by his role as a lead warehouse man, where he fostered harmonious relationships with his colleagues through his friendly nature and willingness to support others.

Born on February 28, 1953, in Los Angeles, California, Warren had an insatiable thirst for knowledge. He earned a Master's Degree in Business and utilized his expertise to navigate the professional world with competence and integrity. However, his true passion lay in nurturing his cherished family.

As a devoted father to his daughter Tara, Warren crafted countless unforgettable memories. Their family road trips were filled with laughter and adventure, while father-daughter horseback riding expeditions created a profound sense of connection between them. They shared a love for the exhilarating thrill of roller coasters and spent countless hours joyfully playing video games like Zelda, Call of Duty, and Rayman.

Warren was known for his witty sense of humor and captivating storytelling abilities. His repertoire of dad jokes brought smiles to the faces of all who knew him. He possessed a caring and loving nature that radiated warmth to those around him. Warren's wisdom was evident in every conversation he engaged in; he never shied away from sharing his vast knowledge or offering insightful advice.

A proud Marine who served his country in the United States Marine Corps., Warren carried the virtues instilled within him throughout his life. His time in the military molded him into a disciplined individual who held honor close to his heart.

In addition to being a loving father and dedicated serviceman, Warren nurtured many hobbies and interests that brought him immense joy. He had an affinity for Western movies, losing himself in tales of gun-slinging heroes and epic frontier adventures. Riding horses provided him with solace and a profound connection to nature. Singing oldies and country music together with his loved ones was a cherished pastime, often accompanied by Warren's culinary skills and playful tunes like "yummy yummy yummy in my tummy."

As Warren battled his illness, he drew strength from the loving presence of his family. Surrounded by their embrace, they played his favorite songs, providing comfort during his final moments at the UCLA Medical Center in Santa Monica.

Warren James Harding's proudest accomplishment was undoubtedly his daughter Tara and the close-knit family they shared. Their bond exemplified the love that he carried within him for his entire family. He will be deeply missed not only by his wife Gladys but by all those who were fortunate enough to experience his genuine kindness and care.

Left to cherish his memory are his beloved wife Gladys and their daughter Tara. Through their grief, they find solace in the knowledge that Warren's love will forever remain alive within them.

Warren James Harding leaves behind a legacy built on hard work, kindness, and a commitment to family. While we mourn the loss of such an extraordinary individual, let us also celebrate the profound impact he had on the lives of all who had the privilege of knowing him. May his spirit live on in our hearts, forever guiding us with his wisdom and love. Rest in eternal peace, Warren
