

*May The Work I've Done
Speak For Me*

*May the works I've done speak for me.
May the works I've done speak for me.
When I'm resting in my grave,
There's nothing more to be said;
May the works I've done
Let it speak for me.*

*May the life I lived speak for me.
May the life I lived speak for me.
When I'm resting in my grave,
There's nothing more to be said;
May the life I lived
Let it speak for me.*

A Life and Legacy of Love and Service

*From the beginning, her life's goal was to be in service. An Usher like her mother before her; serving in the church was an inherent factor it seems; A babysitter by default; (when you are in that middle with three older and four younger siblings, the lot sometimes falls your way.....). A caretaker by choice: for even while in High School, there was a grandmother and mother to care for. This she did out of love and with great compassion and empathy. Putting her college education on hold to be a stay-at-home guardian was (to her) not a sacrifice, but it would shape her legacy for the entirety of her Nursing career: Loved and respected by all of her co-workers, subordinates and superiors alike; she became the epitome of a dedicated LPN/RN for over thirty-five glorious years; all while serving in various capacities at Historic Bolton Street Baptist Church: Truly, her family and friends are all the more blessed by her Spirit-filled life.
From her children, grands and siblings.*
