

Supplementary Materials: Woman in the Waves is the third story in a series of three (the fourth is in progress). It takes place in the fictional town of Driftwood, Oregon, and captures small-town life invaded by big-city crime (drug-dealing, Russian mob, murder) It features strong female characters, a Native American policeman, and grapples with philosophic issues as well as crime.