You're Not Alone

Music from the New Era

Here's a little song to help you get along.

It will see you through when you're feeling blue.

And though it's not profound when you're feeling down, so down,

Sing this little tune, and you'll feel better soon.

You're not alone, even though right now you're on your own,

You are loved in ways that can't be shown; your needs are known;

You're not alone.

And when you cry, you're just letting go of heartache deep inside,

And tomorrow there'll be sunshine and sky and love close by;

You're not alone.

And we know that it's not easy, but we know that it won't last,

'cause one who loves you more than me is sending blessings fast.

You're not alone, say it one more time,

"I'm not alone,"

And even when it's hard to find the words, you're always heard;

We're not alone.

You're not alone.
