

Remember Me

Remember me when I am gone away,
Gone far away into the silent land;
When you can no more hold me by the hand,
Nor I half turn to go yet turning stay.

Remember me when no more day by day
You tell me of our future that you plann'd:
Only remember me; you understand
It will be late to counsel then or pray.
Yet if you should forget me for a while
And afterwards remember, do not grieve:

For if the darkness and corruption leave
A vestige of the thoughts that once I had,
Better by far you should forget and smile
Than that you should remember and be sad.

Susan Carol Iavarone Obituary

On August 23, 1952 Susan Carol Iavarone was born to Ms Mary Scarfuto and Fernando Iavarone . She graduated from Prospect Heights high school in Brooklyn, New York in 1970. Susan went on to further her education to become a cosmetologist. After many years of cosmetology she went to work for Mercant shipping company in JFK airport as a shipping clerk for 20 years. Susan met her future life partner Dyke Noble in 1992.

After 13 years together in New York , they decided to relocate to Kenna, Louisiana in 2005. After hurricane Katrina hit, that same year they were forced to relocate elsewhere. They chose to move to Savannah, Georgia. She then went to culinary school to become a baker and found employment in the deli of Piggly Wiggly supermarkets. She became ill with continuous swelling of her feet. She was forced to give up her job and focus on her health. As time went on she developed other ailments that did not allow her to return to work. She went into the hospital for a problem with her feet and never recovered.

Susan leaves behind her loving life partner Mr. Dyke Noble, brothers Phillip Iavarone, Neil Scarfuto, Vinny Scarfuto, Dominic Scarfuto, Anthony Scarfuto

Cousins Rusty, Snooks, Guy, Lorraine and family. She was very special to quite a bit of people and will be deeply missed.
