OUR SISTER Regina

Don't shed a tear we know that's what you would say,

For you are not dead you're just away.

Your heart is at ease and at rest;

God took you home because He knew best.

You fought a health battle and you finally won;

Genie we know you made it hoame to see your Savior

The Holy One

Regina's Obituary

Regina was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on August 8, 1954, to the late Terrace and James Choice Sr. She was raised in Philadelphia where she attended the public school system. After graduating from William Penn High, she went on to graduate from the Nursing program at Syracuse university in New York.

Jeannie as she was so affectionately known; grew up through the streets of north Philly, where she spent most of her days with friends and family. She was a very caring daughter, sister, aunt, and friend to all who knew her. She loved to laugh fun and you could sometimes get a real joke or two from her. She was a very dedicated and passionate social worker. You could really depend on her to do her job and she did it well. She loved children and they loved her. Jeannie worked as an assistant to her mother Terrace servicing young adults at the Mill Creek Community Center. She later became the voice and creator of the mother and Baby program for Philadelphia Catholic Archdiocese. She spearheaded the first support program for unwed teenage mothers and their babies.

Regina will be missed by all who knew and loved her. Jeannie lived her life like it was golden and never sugarcoated the truth.

In two thousand twelve she met and married her husband, Paul Agbo.

She was preceding in death by her parents, James, Sr. and Terrace, siblings, Robert Choice and Beverly Choice.

She leaves to cherish her memory; Paul Agbo (Husband), brother, James Choice Jr., sister-in-laws Crystal Choice and Claristine Choice. Four sisters, Rosie Janice Choice, Sunday Rice, Jade Choice and Jasmine Choice. One aunt, Arlene Webb; One grandnephew Karon Blackmon Jr. and two great-nieces, Rayana Turefoey and Zion Johnson. Two Goddaughters: Marcella Carpenter and Tajah Williams. Nieces Jaquaya and Jasma Rice and dear nephews Quaid A. Hassan and Omar Hassan. A host of great nieces and nephews, cousins, and her dear friends.
