Don't Cry For Me

Don't cry for me when I am dead
For I have only gone on ahead
To meet My Lord whom I adore,
And God, and friends gone on before.

My eyes which here saw only dim
Are now Wide open and gaze on Him
Who then I could approach by grace
But now I see Him face to face.

The city where He is the light
I've found doth have no need of night.
The father's throne, How can I share?
As prostate in awe I adore Him there.

'Twas not at all like I thought it would be
The trip I dread the crossing of the tide
When He held my hand and stayed by my side.

So do not grieve for me, my friend
Since my earthly life has come to an end.
And my resting place is marked by a stone.
For I am safe and have arrived Home.

'Tis I, you see, who should cry for you
Who are not permitted to some through
To the land of love and peace and bliss.
So meet me soon, I pray you do not miss-

THE WAY TO COME.

The gates are locked to those who plead
Unless Jesus Himself does intercede
And say, "He is one who can come in.
for my blood has covered all his sin."

So don't cry for me when I an dead.
Remember, I've be waiting to greet you
When you enter the gates of heaven too.
