"THE CORD"

*We are connected, my child and I,
by an invisible cord not seen by the eye*

*It's not like the cord that connects us 'til birth,
This cord can't be seen by any on earth*

*This cord does its work right from the start
It binds us together, attached to my heart*

*I know that it's there, though no one can see
The invisible cord from my child to me*

*The strength of this cord is hard to describe
It can't be destroyed, it can't be denied*

It's stronger than any cord man could create it withstands the test, can hold any weight

*And though you are gone, and not here with me
The cord is still there, but no one can see*

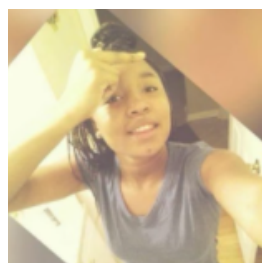

*It pulls at my heart, I am bruised, I am sore
But this cord is my lifeline as never before*

*I am thankful that God connects us this way
A mother and child, death can't take it away*

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We deeply appreciate your kind expressions of sympathy in our time of great sorrow. Thank you for keeping us in your thoughts and prayers.

OBITUARY

Tebria Janee Frazier was welcomed into this earthly world on October 23, 2002 by her parents Teneen and Brian Frazier. As a manifestation of their love for Tebria, Teneen and Brian combined their own first names to create a special space for this special human being. This dimple-chinned beauty grew into her intelligence and strong will, determined to make her mark on this world. She explored her opportunities in life, shadowing professionals in various careers, making the decision to graduate from Clayton High School early in 2020, working part-time, and then becoming a mother to now eight-month-old Syx at the tender age of 17.

Her statuesque presence hid the fact that Tebria had an almost insatiable appetite and especially loved any kind of bread (with jelly). And to watch her when music was played was to watch the sun shine. Her love for music and dancing automatically generated movement and a smile or light laughter, and her friends and family enjoyed seeing her enjoy life.

Tebria was academically gifted, her deep thought accompanied by a very unique and particular clue: the "look of Tebria". Upon recognizing that look, friends and family knew that her opinion about whatever she was thinking would be shared truthfully, but raw and uncut. To this day, when loved ones in her circle mirror that look, the question honorably posed is, "What is it Tebria?" No one ever questioned her desire to become a lawyer or an architect, for not only do both of these professions require deep thought and inquisition, but Tebra was determined to see her wishes fulfilled.

Tebria will be sorely missed but her spirit lives on in her family and friends. She was preceded in death by her brother Darion Royal, and leaves to cherish her memory her parents, her brother Brian Jevon Frazier II, her maternal grandmother whom she affectionately called Mama, Janice Dodd Royal; her maternal grandfather Willie E. Royal, Jr.; her paternal grandparents Cecil and Doris Frazier; along with numerous aunts, special aunt, Debra Ann Pettitway, uncles, cousins, and friends.

Please say her name and continue to keep Tebria Janee Frazier in your hearts, minds, and souls. She is now at peace and wears her God-given crown.
