To My Husband-Carl

Who has shown me what love really is.

Who is the reason for my happy days.

And the comfort in my sad ones.

I am so proud to be your wife!

TRIBUTES

Daddy

I didn't expect this to happen so soon. Again, one of the most dreaded days of my life has happened; the loss of the most remarkable man I have ever known— my big, strong and handsome Daddy. You were always so strong, yet silent. You loved us and cared for us with all of your good heart. You had a presence that always commanded attention, even though you never sought it. Your constant composure made you such a role model for so many of us. Without your having to say a word. I could see the spirit of God in you. You quietly bore so much fruit during your time here. You gave the best of yourself without having to be asked. Life without you will never be the same, but God will give us the strength we need to carry on. I miss you so much, but I know you are now resting in the presence of the Lord. One day, we will be together again for eternity. I love you dearly.

Carla

Dear Dad

I want to first thank my Heavenly Father for giving you 71 years on this earth. And giving me 48 years of them. You have been my rock since day one. You always stood tall and strong. No matter how you felt inside. I want to thank you for always being here for me. Always making sure I was at all my football, basketball, baseball and track practices on time, and making sure I had a way home. Thank you for teaching me how to ride a riding lawnmower and teaching me to drive. Thank you for showing me that you make no excuses when it comes to your job. Thank you for teaching me to be nice to everyone. It didn't matter who they are. Thank you for all the trips we made to Tyler and Longview on Saturdays to get a bite to eat, going to the mall and looking for the new Air Jordans. But what meant the most to me, was just being able to ride around with my dad. I will always be grateful for that. I could go on and on about you, but now that the Lord has called you home, go rest. I will miss you dearly, but I will see you again. I'm at peace with that. I love you, and continue to watch over me .

Love,

Pro
