Rest well, LJ. I would have never thought this day would have to come as fast as it did. You didn't deserve none of it and to see you have to go makes me sad. I wish you would have stayed in. I wish I could hold you; a lot of people loved you, cared about you. Even if sometimes I was wrong, you would take my side no matter what, and I always did the same for you. If I could have you here right now, I would have told you I love you one last time. You meant a lot to everyone around you. Your smile will forever be stuck in my head. It's gonna be lonely making TikToks, and you not right there to try to bust out a dance move and mess it up. LJ Bro, watch over me. The block will forever be lonely, scared, and empty. Imma stay strong for you.

Love Always, Your Big Sister, Laniyah

Obituary

On June 22, 2011, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Laron Quintae Williams, Jr., entered the world as the third child of Michelle Brister and the second child of Laron Williams, Sr. He passed away June 22, 2023, at Philadelphia, PA.

Laron attended Pastorius Richardson Elementary - Mastery Charter School / Stepping Stones. He had just completed sixth grade, with excellence, entering seventh grade in the new school year.

LJ or "Cletus," as he was affectionately called, enjoyed playing football, basketball, and Fortnite with his friends. LJ also enjoyed riding his bikes, going to the store, and eating tons of his grandmom's, mom's, and sister's home-cooked food. In addition, he also took great pleasure in being a good son, grandson, little brother, nephew, cousin, and best friend to all who loved him.

LJ was preceded in death by his grandmother, Barbara Brister; great-grandmother, Maude Fant; and great-great-grandmother, Annie Robinson (Momma-TeeTee).

LJ leaves to forever cherish his memories: his father, Laron Williams, Sr.; mother, Michelle Brister; sisters, Alexis and Laniyah Brister; grandmother, Zernestine Williams; great-grandmother, Elaine Williams; favorite grandaunt, Elaine Williams; uncle and aunt, Michael and Jalene Brister; and a host of other grandaunts, granduncles, cousins, and friends.

*Lovingly Submitted,
The Williams and Brister Family*
