Obituary

Patricia was born in Savannah, GA, on October 2, 1957 to the late Benny James Hunt and Anzaneta McClary Hunt Cooper who preceded her in death. She was the fourth of six siblings of which two preceded her in death; a brother, Charles Gadsden and a sister, Daisy Members. She attended Savannah-Chatham Public schools.

Patricia loved children and in her early years took a job in a local daycare where the little 2, 3, and 4 year olds lovingly addressed her as "Mr. Hunt." It was hilarious and has always tickled her. Later, she took several jobs as a waitress.

Patricia gave her life to the Lord later in life and thoroughly enjoyed meeting with the saints for prayer, worship, and Bible study. Her favorite song was "Because of Who you Are" by Vicki Yohe. She always made this the first suggestion for worship. Patricia enjoyed reading and looked forward to her role as backup baby-sitter for the grandchildren when Mom's schedule was interrupted. She was sweet and quiet for the most part but often entertained the family by her feisty out breaks.

Patricia will be sadly missed but also celebrated because she leads the way by her entrance into the presence of our Great King and Savior Jesus Christ. After finishing her race, she leaves two sisters, Melva Sharpe and Mattie Graham (Anthony); one brother Michael Cooper (Twiana), one sister-in-law Tonia Cooper, one brother-in-law Bonnie Sharpe (Patricia), all of Savannah, Georgia; and a host of nieces, nephews and other family members and friends.
