SECTION II: ELIGIBILITY DEFINITIONS

2.01 - Appeal of Player Rating

Player ratings may be appealed. Members who disagree with the outcome or process known to them for determining their rating assignment may appeal the decision by writing to the Director of Eligibility. The appeal will be processed following the steps outlined in Bylaw 7.02 (complaint filing procedures.). The request should document reasons the player feels the rating was completed improperly or should otherwise be invalidated. The determination (response) of a rating appeal is appealable to the Members at Large. In the event of a tie, the President will cast the tie-breaking vote. A rating appeal is not eligible for appeal to the General Membership.

2.02 - Non-Rated Players

Teams that bring players that do not have NAGVA ratings to NAGVA Sanctioned Tournaments should be aware that those players will be rated during pool play and that the new rating will be considered effective for placing the team in the appropriate division for elimination play in the tournament according to rule 2.04 (see rule 2.03).

2.03 - Effective Date of New Player Ratings and Player Re-ratings

- A. Initial ratings of new players are effective immediately. This player may be re-rated at any time.
- B. If a player has received a valid re-evaluation, and that player's rating remains at their current level, their rating is effective at the conclusion of the tournament (including Championships). This player may not be rated down for a six-month period from the date of re-evaluation but may be rated up at any time.
- C. If a player has been re-rated, and that player is rated up to a higher level, their new rating is effective 35 days from the conclusion of the tournament, except for Championships, at which their new rating is effective at the conclusion of Championships. This player may not be rated down for a six-month period from the date of re-evaluation but may be rated up at any time.
- D. If a player has been re-rated, and that player is rated down to a lower level, their new rating is effective at the conclusion of the tournament. This player may not be rated down for a six-month period from the date of re-evaluation but may be rated up at any time.

Rules and Regulations of the North American Gay Volleyball Association

2.04 - Player Ratings

A. Guidelines for Rating Individual Players

The purpose of player ratings is to place individuals with similar abilities in the same division and promote fair competition and enhance player safety. Guidelines for rating individual players are found in the NAGVA Skills Assessment.

1. The NAGVA Skills Assessment is a set of 24 skills-based questions that are part of the NAGVA Rules & Regulations (as part of the Appendix) and treated as one entity. Any edits, alterations or content changes to the 24 skills questions must be reviewed and voted on using the process for amending the Rules and Regulations.
2. The Skills Assessment will determine the player's NAGVA rating. A member's skills assessment result will be recorded for each question. The highest two skills will determine a member's rating. In the event the highest two skills do not match, the lower of the two will be the final rating. A member's skills assessment will be available for review by any member.

B. Initial Player Ratings

1. Upon registering for the first time with NAGVA, the team representative will indicate what they believe to be a player's rating. This rating will be the provisional rating. All provisional ratings will be verified by NAGVA officials using the above guidelines and observing play. Once a new player is given their rating by NAGVA officials, this player will have an initial rating. NAGVA officials may modify the initial rating based on observed play. At the conclusion of the tournament, the player will have a final, established rating. This new player may be re-rated at any time.
2. Additional conditions and requirements shall apply to non-rated or provisional players being used as a libero or a defensive specialist substitute. The team captain must comply with one of the requirements regarding such players:
 - a. The team representative can designate the player as a back-row only player, for the entire tournament (by notifying the RC in advance). That player will not be allowed to play front row during pool play or elimination play, except in the event of injury or removal of a teammate. The initial rating assigned for back-row only players will be coded "-br" [ex. "BB-br"]. Such ratings shall be treated the same as provisional ratings; thus, any future tournament the player attends and in which the player plays a different position, the player must comply with Rules 2.03 (1) and 2.04 (A).
 - b. The team representative can designate the player as a front-row only player, for the entire tournament (by notifying the RC in advance). That player will not be allowed to play back row during pool play or elimination play, except for in the event of injury or removal of a teammate. The initial rating assigned for front-row specialists will be coded -fr [ex. "BB-fr"]. Such ratings shall be treated the same as provisional ratings; thus, any future tournament the player attends and in which the player plays a different position, the player must comply with Rules 2.03 (1) and 2.04 (A).

Rules and Regulations of the North American Gay Volleyball Association

C. Ratings for Championships

1. At Championships, if a player has been re-rated, and that player's rating remains at their current level, their rating is effective at the conclusion of Championships. This player may be re-rated at any time.
2. At Championships, if player has been re-rated, and that player is rated up to a higher level, their new rating is effective at the conclusion of Championships. This player may not be re-rated down for a six-month period from the date this player was most recently re-rated.
3. At Championships, if a player has been re-rated, and that player is rated down to a lower level, their new rating is effective at the conclusion of Championships. This player may be re-rated at any time.

D. Basis for Ratings and Re-ratings

Ratings and re-ratings are based on skill level. A player may request a Medical Re-rate based upon substantiated evidence of an injury or medical condition. If the Medical Re-rate is granted, the player will be treated as an initial rating under subsection A above. In their request for Medical Re-rate, players must also ensure that their request complies with the NAGVA Code of Conduct under section 1.02 D.

E. Medical Re-Rate treated as Initial Rating

If a player has been granted a Medical Re-rate, the Re-rate will be treated as an initial rating under subsection A above.

F. Requests for Re-Evaluation During a Tournament (not an appeal)

Members may request to be re-evaluated during a tournament provided they are eligible for re-rate as defined in Rule 2.03 B. Request forms submitted to the Regional Commissioner must indicate if submitted on a player's own behalf or at the request of another player (name of requestor if required). While it is the goal to observe all players for whom requests are received, re-rate requests are completed as time and personnel permit.

G. Inactivity Re-rate

Members with a break in participation of at least three consecutive years are eligible to return to play as a non-rated player. The request must be submitted in writing to the Director of Eligibility, following the appeal process defined in Rule 2.01. Upon verification that no participation occurred over the prior three years, the rating change is approved and effective immediately. Participation is defined as and verified by record of the member's signature on an official team roster/waiver for a sanctioned tournament. Last rated date is not a valid time point for verifying a period of inactivity.

2.05 - Rules Governing Team Roster Composition

Team Roster Restrictions

Teams registered to compete in any division offered by a tournament may only include players whose rating is the same or lower than that division, or those not yet rated (NR). Exceptions as defined below are allowed for teams competing in Modified or Masters Divisions.

Rules and Regulations of the North American Gay Volleyball Association

2.06 - Divisions used for Organizing Competition

A. Standard Divisions

Tournament Directors will organize competition by selecting which divisions will be allowed to register. Standard divisions are named for each of the letter ratings used in the current player rating system (ex. B, BB, A, AA).

B. Modified Divisions

Tournaments may offer a Modified A Division in addition to or in place of any division noted above. The allowable modifications are:

1. Modified A1 Division, which allows (1) AA rated player on a Modified A1 team. The remaining players on the roster can be of any rating lower than AA.
2. Modified A3 Division, which allows up to (3) AA rated players on a Modified A3 team. The remaining players on the roster can be of any rating lower than AA.

C. Open Format (Standard B, BB + Open for A, AA)

Tournaments using this format follow the team composition rules for B and BB but offer a flexible option for teams with higher level players called the Open division. Teams may compete in the "Open" Division without team composition restrictions with respect to player ratings. Pools for the Open Division are assigned in a way that equitably distributes teams with highest number of AA players among the pools.

The split into the "AA Open" and "A Open" division playoff brackets will be done based on a pre-determined format (a stated number of teams in each given a total number participating), published and communicated to the captains, on or before the start date of competition. The guidelines for splitting the teams and determining seeds are determined using both team composition (player ratings) and pool play results in the following method:

1. Teams with three or more AA players will be automatically grouped into the Open AA division playoff bracket and seeded based on Pool Play results using the method provided in Rule 3.02 G. Additional teams, based on results are added from Open Division pools up to the stated number for this bracket.
2. Teams with fewer than three AA players, will be seeded into either the "AA Open" playoff bracket or the "A Open" Playoff bracket, based on Pool Play results and in a way that results in the stated number of teams in each bracket.
3. If all teams who enter the Open Division have three or more AA players, the host organization can choose to seed all teams into the AA Open bracket, or they can choose to run separate "AA Open" Gold and "AA Open" Silver brackets, provided that there are enough teams to split the divisions after Pool Play and still be in compliance with the minimum three team division requirement.

Additional Information: Examples of predetermined formats

"Open AA/A" division is comprised of 18 teams. Ten teams will be seeded into the AA Open playoff bracket, and eight teams will be seeded into the A Open Playoff bracket.

Rules and Regulations of the North American Gay Volleyball Association

Teams with more than three AA players automatically seed in Open AA, the remaining spots in Open AA are filled based on results without respect to individual ratings. The remaining eight teams are grouped in Open A bracket.”

“Open AA/A is comprised of eight Teams, with option to keep as one division given all teams meeting the three AA player threshold.”

D. Masters Divisions

Tournaments may offer age-restricted competition within a Masters Division format. The division may be included among any of those noted in 2.05 B 1 and 2, or exclusively within an all-Masters Tournament format.

1. The minimum age for players on teams entered in Masters Divisions shall be 35 years old, as of the date competition begins.
2. As with the Standard Divisions above, Masters Divisions can be modified to encourage greater participation. Tournaments may offer:
 - a. Masters Modified BB Division which allows for no more than three (3) A rated players on a BB team.
 - b. Masters Modified B, which allows for (1) BB rated player on a B team.

2.07 Championships Eligibility

Player Eligibility

To be eligible to compete in Championships, each individual player in standard, modified, or open Divisions must meet the following requirements:
