Love

*How far to the stars, millions of miles
And to travel it takes years I've been told
But, love knows with just a smile or a touch
It travels fast if it has room to grow
With many kinds of love, each good as the other
All in different ways the very best love is one that stays and stays
Your mother and father the love you have for them
It goes on forever this love know no end
The distance that love will travel
The love between sister and brother
Depends on the love one has for the other
And to be alone in body and mind
Not having friends loving and kind
Someone to turn to when you are blue
No matter what they are always true
Then the ultimate love God gives to life
The love between man and wife.*
