

The Old Hunter

They all remember when the old hunter could hike for miles. Drag a deer for hours. With steady hands and an eagle eye spot game and shoot with true aim. He shakes a bit now he can't walk hardly if at all. Gone is the strength of youth.

With family gathered round whipping and crying.

He says don't be sad I've been here for years.

I've taught you my lessons and now I'll go home where I'll walk n hunt on my own legs once more.

He'll have a glorious homecoming with loved ones that went home before him.

While our heart hurts because of the loss of the old hunter. We should take comfort in the fact he is whole once again with family and friends thanks to Jesus's promise.
