From The Heart

Can anything ever separate us from Christ's love? Does it mean he no longer loves us if we have trouble or calamity, or are persecuted, or hungry, or destitute, or in danger, or threatened with death? No, despite all these things, overwhelming victory is ours through Christ, who loved us. And I am convinced that nothing can ever separate us from God's love. Neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither our fears for today nor our worries about tomorrow—not even the powers of hell can separate us from God's love. No power in the sky above or in the earth below—indeed, nothing in all creation will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is revealed in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Romans 8:35, 37-39

You may be gone
from my sight...
but you are never gone from my heart.

To my beloved sister, Carla. How do I begin to write such words? How do I begin to reflect on your life? How do I start this letter to you. I am speechless. I do not know what to say. I love you, I miss you, and my heart is very heavy. You are up there with family . You are showing John, Charles, Madear, Johnny, and Granddaddy how to do some craft projects, while drinking your sweet tea from Chick Express. Please fill my cup up with ice before you add the tea, you would tell them. You all are making bracelets and fooling around with that Cricut machine. Rest assure we got it down here. I am going to miss hearing "Gurl" those folks at Amazon. Just like "Gurl" those folks at Penny's. I am going to miss the phone calls that start off with "JIGGA YOU MY ....." I'm crying just thinking about it. You was truly loved by your husband, your kids, your grandkids, your momma, your sisters, your brother, and a host of family and friends. Thank you for the 50 years you have given me. Enjoy your new life. HEAVEN HAS GOTTEN ANOTHER GOOD ONE.

Love your sister, Robin

To even have to think of words to say is so hard being that never would I have thought my light from you would come to a dim so sudden. But to know I got my last kiss, hug & I love you the day before you left puts me at a little ease. I know you would want to be strong for our boys I promise I will do that, just promise to be our forever angel I got the rest.
