Seeing Jesus in You

The Roundup Seventh-Day Adventist church consistently involves themselves in their community. They consider themselves small but mighty in the Lord's work and are not afraid to interact in their small town.

The Roundup church recently helped the local Salvation Army service unit with its bell ringing campaign. Each year the Salvation Army sets up the familiar red kettles at local grocery stores and this year, even with the pandemic, was no exception. This is the main fundraiser for the Salvation Army, besides a local campaign called the Musselshell Unity Drive.

The Salvation Army began in 1865 in London, England. Few realize that it is indeed a church, but with the pastor titles of Captain and Lieutenant, similar to that of the military army. Now it is a world-wide ministry.

Church members help with RSVP, the retired senior volunteer program, Meals on Wheels, the local food bank, Northern Treasures Thrift Store, the Musselshell Unity Drive or M.U.D., Roundup Community Partners, Southeast Montana Tourism, and the Roundup Memorial Hospital's Auxiliary, and a bi-annual highway cleanup. They have sponsored two vision clinics and hope to sponsor another in the near future. They also have a weekly radio show, "Let's Talk About That" on their own radio station. KQLJ, 105.5 FM. The radio show is also broadcast on its own Facebook page where they advertise to gain more viewers.

There are ways to volunteer in every community. Don't be afraid to get out and help. Sometimes the only Jesus people will see is you.
