GROWING YOUNG ADVENTIST SUMMIT

MID-AMERICA UNION CONFERENCE NOVEMBER 16-17, 2018

WHAT IS IT?

Growing Young Adventists (GYA) is an opportunity to encourage our church to love next generations well. We want to cheer, support, and resource congregations who desire the vitality of our young people and the great relationships they bring.

GYA is a learning journey for local churches and leaders helping to build faith communities that will not only survive, but thrive in the years ahead. It is an inter-generational movement nurturing relationship building and cultural transformation that embraces young people and benefits all generations in the Adventist church.

- Cheer: We celebrate great Adventist people in warm churches who are building wholesome, authentic relationships with young people. GYA loves to tell growing young stories.
- Support: We nurture Adventist churches and organizations who desire to grow young with the collective experience and shared wisdom of ministry leaders, point people, and passionate volunteers. GYA is here to help.
- Resource: We equip growing young communities by supplying mentoring, materials, and ministry training that help Adventists love next generations better. GYA has stuff to share.

This GYA Summit will be focusing on how to help our youth and young adults love and embrace their church as well as how churches can build strong intergenerational relationships. There will be plenty of time to brainstorm and discuss with your team on how to implement the principles into the context of your local church. The purpose is to have a plan to take back to your church.
