

Afterglow

I'd like to leave an echo
whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times
and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve,
to dry before the sun;
Of happy memories that
I leave when my life is done

Tribute to My DAD

*Dear Dad,
I was angry when you left....*

I shouted at death like death could hear me, "This isn't fair" And I ask a thousand whys. All my questions, doubts, and fears were answered with silence. Between the anger, there was heartbreak and disbelief when I heard I had a decision to make. I realize this can't be real. This can't be my reality, but this nightmare of grief was reality. And the reality is I lost someone I loved. I'll never know the reasons as to why. Yet, I don't think there is an explanation that would make this feel okay. Love has been filled with grief. What once was, can no longer be. And while the anger fade, the wishing you were here never does.

Yacheka Buckhannon

A limb has fallen from the family tree.

I keep hearing a voice that says, "Grieve not for me."

*Remember the best times,
the laughter, the song.*

The good life I lived while I was strong.

Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you.

Keep smiling and surely the sun will shine through.

My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest.

Remembering all, how I truly was blessed.

Continue traditions, no matter how small.

Go on with your life, don't worry about falls.

I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin.

Until the day comes we're together again.
