

All about Mrs. Harrington

Hi! My name is Kim Harrington, but most of my students call me Mrs. H. This is my fifth-year teaching at Mamawí Atosketan and I absolutely love it. I am teaching high school math now and excited to learn and have fun as we do it. This year I am particularly happy to be moving into a new building. We've been waiting for it for a long time!

I have a wonderful family at home. They include my husband Curtis, who works in information technology, and my daughters Joanne and Jessica. This year Joanne will be graduating from high school and Jessica will be in grade 10.
