The beloved matriarch of our family
Has spread her wings and flown to eternity.
At ninety-two years young, she left earth,
But her life had just begun.

She shed her body, and her spirit became free, to join the Lord on bent knees, to worship and glorify His majesty.

She leaves behind a great legacy of love, laughter, unity,
and tenacity, along with warmth, compassion, and generosity.

If she was this and so much more, imagine what she
Can be in the presence of the Lord.

Beautiful, glowing, and dressed in fine clothing;
No more pain, suffering, and moaning.

When the Lord died, He rose again on the third day.

Won't it happen for us the same way?

Heaven rejoiced when He resurrected, and holding the keys to life and death, He ascended.

So, we too should look beyond the grave, in hopes that
One day we will be saved.

Your death is surely not the end, so for now,
Until we meet again.
