I'll Think Of You

To the world out there, to those hungry to hear,
God's message of hope I'll share, I'll share.
At the end of day, When my labors are through,
In the stillness of night I'll think of you,
I'll think of you, I'll think of you, I'll think of you.

When chores are done, and children sleep,
And unfinished work and tasks, will keep, will keep.
At the end of day, When I'm weary too,
As the fires shadows fade, I'll think of you,
I'll think of you, I'll think of you, I'll think of you.

So for a while – A few short days,
Our lives will move in separate ways,
When sorrows come, and fears creep through,
In my heart I'll softly smile, And think of you.
I'll think of you, I'll think of you, I'll think of you.

Of you...
