They must understand and respect the inherent power imbalance that exists in this relationship and must be extremely careful not to abuse it. Coaches must also recognize that they are conduits through which the values and goals of a sport organization are channeled. How an athlete regards his/her sport is therefore often dependent on the behaviour of the athlete's coach. The following Code of Conduct has been developed to aid coaches in achieving a level of behaviour, which will allow them to assist their athletes in becoming well-rounded, self-confident and productive human beings. Coaches will:

- a) Consistently display high personal standards and project a favourable image of their sport and of coaching;

- k) Consider the athletes' future health and well-being as foremost when making decisions regarding an injured athlete's ability to continue playing or training;
- l) Recognize and accept when to refer athletes to other coaches or sport specialists. Allow athletes' goals to take precedence over their own;
