I THOUGHT OF YOU WITH LOVE

*I thought of you today, but that is nothing new.
I thought about you yesterday, and days before that too.
I think of you in silence, I often speak your name.
All I have now are memories, and your picture in a frame.
Our memory is a keepsake from which I'll never part,
God has you in His keeping, we have you in our hearts.*

Love - Your Family

HIS STORY

Vincent Tyrone Price was born December 28, 1957, as one of eight children to the late Harry James Price Sr. and Eleanor Carrie Price.

Vincent was born in Philadelphia, Pa and grew up in the Raymond Rosen Projects before his parents moved their family to West Oak Lane. Vincent was friendly, but mild mannered. As a child he developed an artistic eye which developed into drawing and making picture collages. His eye for art went far beyond the average person's view span. He truly believed you could make something out of nothing. As a young boy, he enjoyed playing all sports with the kids in the neighborhood.

Vincent accepted the Lord & Savior Jesus Christ at an early age and attended church with his family at the Ebenezer COGIC under the tutelage of Elder Robert A. Bady Sr. then the Christian Youth Rally, under the tutelage of Dr. Marlene D. Talley.

Vincent pursued his formal education in the Philadelphia Public School District. Graduating as the 1974 class of Downingtown Industrial & Agricultural School. After high school Vincent enlisted in the United States Army. He trained in Fort Jackson South Carolina; Vincent was honorably discharged.

After the military, Vincent was gainfully employed in the culinary industry. He could make a mean chef's salad, hoagie and steak sandwiches. He enjoyed his walks around the neighborhood. He loved black history. He was proud of who he was and had a collection of prominent african american figures. He was an avid Eagles Football Fan, even though he was quiet natured, that all changed when the Eagles game was on.

Vincent was not a complainer. Even in his final days. He never left God out. He often read "Our Daily Bread" and Sunday school books. He recommitted his life back to Christ before his passing. Vincent's last encounter was with God, and he was sure he was going to receive the crown of life. He was so sure his final words were "I'M GOING HOME."

Vincent is preceded in death by his grandparents, parents, Harry James Price Sr. and mother, Eleanor Carrie Price.

He leaves to cherish his memory: siblings - Marionette (Alan), Gladys, Kathy (Warren), Harry Jr., Darlene, Valerie, Jonathan and Sherman (Dawn), as well as many nieces, nephews, a host of aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.
