There are many things I love about each of my students. One of them is what they say—their perspective. The following are a few quotations I have ‘collected’ over the years. I hope you will enjoy them as much as I do!

“My mom said I am a multi-tasker. I can do at least 2 or 3 things at once.

Like this morning I did two things—I read while I was eating breakfast.”—E.W.

One gentleman made a unique sound and a classmate asked, “What was that?”

His response was, “A sneeze. I sneeze like a MAN now!”—C.W.

“Please help the electricity and lights to come back on so we can see a little bit when we’re writing today.”—A.N.

“I want to pray that we sell our house because the bank said it was only worth $119.00 and we paid $20,000 for it!”—J.Y.

“I believe heaven will have 99,000,000 rooms. The first one belongs to Adam and Eve.”—J.K.

“Dear God, Thank you that everybody has their own birthday. And thank you that some people have their birthdays on the same day. Thank you that no one can change their birthday—they will always be the same.”—M.K.

“I think heaven will look like a lot of light, clouds, beautiful water, nice animals, God’s angels, God, beautiful skies, birds, gorgeous flowers, nice homes, really good friends, have toys, and last have a bathroom for going to the restroom.”—G.W.

When I asked a student to be proactive he answered, “I can’t do that Mrs. Waymire, because I don’t have that lotion at home.”—I.R.

“I believe in heaven we will have gold houses and never get dirty.”—D.S.

Before prayer a scholar shared with the class, “I’d like to pray for my mom.” I asked, “Why?”

He replied, “She’s having a hard time.”

To clarify I asked, “Oh, is she ill?”

His response was, “No, it’s the food. She can’t really do it right.”

I questioned, “Do you mean cook it?”

With sincerity he responded, “Yes, but she is really trying. I just want God to help her.”—D.H.

“I am thankful for Jesus dying on the crust.”—S.P.

And my favorite:

“Dear God, thank you for loving Mrs. Waymire.”—S.M.

Thank you for giving me the privilege of spending my days teaching, and learning from, your children!

--Mrs. Waymire
