CLOTHING STUDY

This week, we have studied different types of footwear, clothing appropriate for different weather and seasons, and patterns (which are so foundational to many math topics).

Next week, I am planning a pajama day (for just our class, not the whole school), to go with our clothing study on Wednesday, Oct. 21. We will read Llama, Llama, Red Pajama and do related activities that day. Students can wear appropriate pajamas, but need to wear normal shoes and bring outerwear as necessary. We will still go out for recess.

If you have a clothing item our class would find interesting and that you wouldn't mind letting us borrow, please let me know. Cultural and occupational items would be excellent learning opportunities for us.

CLASSROOM ITEMS

- Calendar items, again. We are looking into whether our drive-through Thanksgiving idea is wanted and needed for our local elderly population. If you have input for the office as they consider options, please let Mrs. Reedy know.
- On Tuesday, Oct. 27 at 10:30 am, the New Market Fire & Rescue will be presenting to us. This will tie into our clothing study, as well as emphasize topics from Fire Safety Month (October).
- If your child does not have the red SVAE field trip polo shirt, please see Mrs. Reedy at the front office to order one.
- Red Ribbon Week is a week dedicated to anti-drug topics. In our class, we approach this as making good choices for our body without going into specifics about different substances. Each day is a special dress-up day with a theme. (Monday – wear red, Tuesday, wear Hawaiian attire, Wednesday – wear sports attire, Thursday – wear fun or mismatched socks).

While we do not have homework in Pre-K, I recommend that you spend time each day reading with your child.

Children who are read to at least three times a week by a family member are almost twice as likely to score in the top 25% in reading compared to children who are read to less than 3 times a week.
