Register for Advanced Practice Day

The Advanced Practice Day includes a review of the fundamentals and allows for more questions and answers especially as concerns clinical information. You will learn to hyper-accelerate your image cycling and practice the Bengston Method with fellow students. Dr. Bengston will lead the group through a variety of exercises in cycling and treatment, designed to help practitioners experience the energy flow more directly, and without distraction, until the group achieves extreme speed. You will also see a review of clinical case studies of both humans and animals with a wide variety of health issues and Dr. Bengston will answer questions about clinical issues as well as share his, and other's, clinical experiences.

Pre-requisite: Must have attended a Bengston Method two-day workshop.
