

IN LOVING MEMORY

If Heaven wasn't so far away
I'd ask her how the weather is
And if her feet still hurt.
I'd ask her if Heaven has snowdrops
And if she saw me at my worst.

I'd ask her if grandpa was busy up there
And, if he didn't farm, what did he do?
I'd maybe be silly and ask her
If Elvis is there too.

I'd ask her who she plays
Cards with, if she still makes mashed potatoes.
I'd ask her if she has a secret garden
Where infinite flowers grow.

I'd ask her if he forgives me for my failings
And is there any room
I'd ask her if she'd help me get there
Though prayed it would not be soon.
