Certified Personal Trainer

NCCPT Certified Personal Trainer (CPT) Result: Pass

Congratulations! You have passed the NCCPT Certified Personal Trainer examination. You will find your certificate in your NCCPT account within one business day.

To support your ongoing professional growth, your performance in each topical domain of the exam is summarized below in a sliding scale framework.

If your indicator is to the far right of the scale, this means that your score represents a high proficiency in the content area.

If your indicator is near the mid-point of the scale, this means that your score represents a moderate proficiency in the content area and you may wish to review this area.

If your indicator is towards the left of the scale, this means your score represents a lack of
