

PRAYER TOPICS

WEEK BEGINNING 18th JULY 2022

We have been on holiday for two weeks and have seen the magnificence of God's creation, and also devastation that nature can cause with huge areas of forest destroyed by wild fires caused by lightning strikes.

We have seen two sides of humanity. Hard working individuals who made our stay so pleasant, and those who were down and out, a man unconscious on a street bench due to drugs and a teenager begging for a light so he could get a high from cannabis or even heroin. Emotions of pleasure and despair.

Let us be honest with ourselves, we all have times of real highs and real lows. Where are you at this moment? Take a moment to think and reflect on what has got you to this particular point.

Monday

Today let us pray for those we know who are in the depths of despair. Those who are really seriously ill or who are severely depressed. Unless we are one of those people we have no idea of how they feel. We can only take a wild guess and then we would probably be wrong. It often feels that their prayers are bouncing off the ceiling. Pray for God's peace for them.

Tuesday

Today let us pray for those who are having a great time with God at the moment. Thank God for them and pray that their enthusiasm does not take a tumble.

Wednesday

Today let us pray for those in the middle. Pray that God keeps them safe from the pit falls of life, and pray that they may have a greater relationship with God.

Thursday

Thank God today for the wonders of Creation. Pray that man will not continue to destroy it, and that Governments will look at ways of reversing Climate Change. Pray for China, India and the USA, three of the worst offenders of polluting God's world.

Friday

Pray for our farmers who are now entering the really busy time of harvest. Pray that the yields will be good so as not to add to inflation.

Saturday

Pray for those who have to work over the weekend. Those in the NHS, Fire Service, Police shop workers etc.

Sunday

Pray for our time together at Letton Hall. This may be an opportunity to bring friends and people on the fringe to meet Jesus.

God Bless
Richard.