He served his country in the Vietnam War and earned the National Defense Service Metal Ribbon, Vietnam Service Ribbon, Army Service Ribbon, Republic of Vietnam Campaign Ribbon, and Marksman (Rifle M-14) Sharpshooter Badge.

After serving in the US Army, Charles worked at Nestle and Commonwealth Edison Power Company. He provided for his family and loved them dearly. He especially loved spending quality time with his mother before she passed.

Charles also enjoyed spending time with his family and friends. Because he loved dressing up in suits with matching shirts and handkerchiefs, he gained the name of "Pretty Boy". Although Charles was a serious man of few words, he was known for his colorful language and wisecracks.

Charles looked forward to seeing his grandchildren whom he shared a common love for snacks. During visits, they would enjoy strawberry short cake ice cream bars, popcorn, and his favorite drink, orange pop! He not only loved snacks, he enjoyed Rib-Tips, Italian Beefs, Strawberry milkshakes, and juicy cheeseburgers and pork chops. Although he was a foodie before foodie became a thing, to everyone's surprise, in his words "I don't eat anything that flies".

When Charles wasn't with family and friends, he would often pass the time watching western movies and News stations. He really enjoyed watching the movie GoodFellas. These are just a few things that make us smile and will be remembered about Charles. He was loved and his memories will be cherished by his siblings, children, grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, and a host of extended family and friends.
