SPEAKER: MARTIN WEBER

Martin Weber served 10 law enforcement agencies from the local to federal level as a volunteer chaplain while pastoring in Northern California. He also taught pastors on six continents, from Pakistan to Australia, during four decades of Adventist ministry. At the University of British Columbia, Dr. Weber researched why children of Adventist clergy in Mid-America leave the church. Retired now, he lives with wife Darlene in Lincoln, Nebraska while serving as a hospice chaplain.
