I Dare You... To Be A Leader

I dare you, young children, to achieve something that will make the world better.

I dare you to develop your full potential, follow your wildest dreams, and live your lives with integrity.

I dare you, young executives, to shoulder more responsibility joyously, to launch out into the deep, and to build magnificently.

I dare you, young authors and researchers, to win the Nobel Prize.

I dare you, young farmers, to become Hunger Fighters for the world.

I dare you, young parents, to devote yourselves to your families so that your children will grow into strong, independent people.

I dare you, grandparents, with your roots deep in the soil and your heads above the crowd, catching the rays of the sun, to plan daring programs to crown the years of your life.

I dare you to be strong, to be sparkling, and to share with others the fruits of your daring. Catch a passion for helping others, and a richer life will come back to you.
