

REPORT OF EVALUATION OF EDUCATIONAL CREDENTIALS

NAME: Monica Andrea Delgado Vargas
PURPOSE OF
COUNTRY: Chile EVALUATION: Immigration

September 28, 2006

In response to Ms. Delgado Vargas' request, the following is a re-evaluation of her academic credentials from Chile for consideration by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

Ms. Delgado Vargas attended the University of Chile (Universidad de Chile). Founded in 1738, the University of Chile is a recognized (accredited) institution of higher education in Chile. In order to be admitted into a doctoral program at the University of Chile, applicants must have a Master's (Magister) degree or the equivalent and pass an entrance examination. This is the equivalent of a U.S. Master's degree earned at a regionally accredited institution of higher education in the United States.

Ms. Delgado Vargas completed the four-year doctoral program and graduated with the degree of Doctor of Sciences with a Specialty in Biology (Doctor en Ciencias con Mencion en Biologia) on March 11, 1998. We reviewed the curriculum of this program to ensure that it is substantially equivalent to a doctoral program in the United States. This is the equivalent of the U.S. degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Biology earned at a regionally accredited institution of higher education in the United States.
