

IN LOVING MEMORY

Alex was a hunter at heart,
He was willing to do every part,
Always seeking adventure in the great outdoors,
Even when the thunder clouds would roar,
He was always looking through the pines,
So, no time would be left behind,
Being a hunter can be a hard lifestyle,
But as he would say it's not the age it's the miles,
His spirit will forever roam free,
As do the deer in the woods and wind in the trees.
