

Miss Me, But let Me Go

When I come to the end of the day,
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room.
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little, but not too long,
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love we once shared -
Miss me, but let me go.

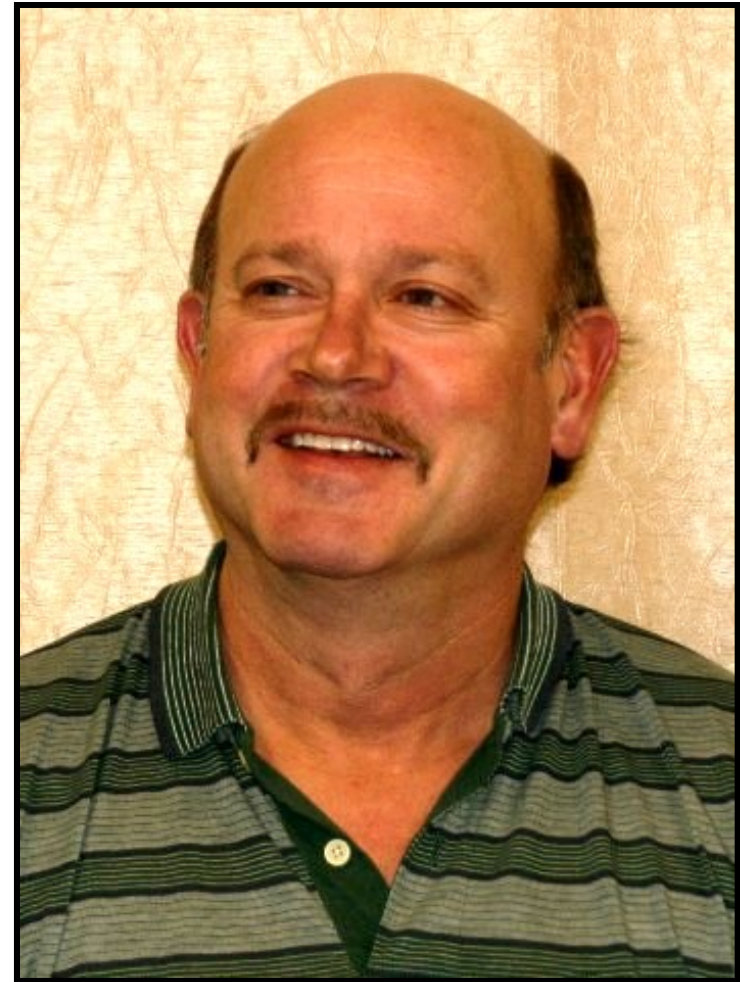

For this is a journey we all must take,
And each must go alone.

It's all a part of the maker's plan,
A step on road to Home.

When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know.

And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds -
Miss me, but let me go.

Roger was the son of Henry & Dorothy (Paszek) Henning. He grew up on the family farm. In the days of CB radios, his handle was the "Artful Dodger", a play on the novel, Oliver Twist by Charles Dickens.

After he graduated from Webster High School in 1975, he worked for John Deere until he attended SDSU where he graduated as a Mechanical Engineer. He was employed by General Dynamics in California and later relocated to North Platte, Nebraska where he continued his career with Gerald Gentleman Station, the state's largest electricity generating plant. When Roger's mother developed Alzheimer's, he relocated to the Webster/Grenville area to be closer to his family. He worked as an inspector for steam powered generators, road construction and later for a union responsible for inspecting pipelines until his retirement.

Roger made friends wherever the job took him. He lived life simply and humbly, enjoying the time spent playing cards, hunting and fishing, and visiting with friends and family. Roger came home to Grenville and treasured his local community, faith and friends.

He is survived by two brothers, Duane (Ellen) Henning of Bakersfield, CA, and Ken (Patty) Henning of Harrisburg, SD, and sister, Jane (Val) Jaspers of Watertown, SD, plus 8 nieces and nephews and 7 great-nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents and nephew, Scott Henning.
