Devotional:

Today I am going to tell you about the story of David. When Saul became kind, David was a shepherd. David's job was to protect the sheep from lions and wolves with only a sling. God told Samuel, "You must go to Bethlehem and anoint the one I will choose." When Samuel came, God told him to pick David and to anoint David as king. King Saul didn't know that David was anointed by Samuel. David liked to play music to King Saul and Saul liked the music. David became Saul's bodyguard after he defeated Goliath. People started saying, "Saul has killed his thousands, but David has killed tens of thousands!" Then Saul got an army of his strongest men and tried to kill David. When the army was coming for David, David said, "Protect me Lord" and he did! David went back and Saul sent more people to find him. His wife, the princess, let David escape out of the window. David wrote a song called Psalm 23 about God taking care of him. — Sydney, 3rd grade

He got a hose
And flooded the sandbox.

Classroom News:

Grades 3-7

This week we have studied about our solar system. We also have a new online spelling program. The big boys, like myself, have been having tons of fun playing basketball at recess. We have a new teacher teaching on Fridays now. Instead of Mrs. Kelly, her name is Mrs. Celeste! Our favorite thing to do right now is to play with Spheros. I hope you have a good weekend! – Joshua, 6th grade

Grades 1-2

This week we watched a video and got coloring books about canal safety featuring Otto Otter. In science we learned about shadows – we measured shadows at different times of day and learned that as the sun moves shadows look longer or shorter. We also learned how to make hand shadows. We finished our Bible unit on the Good Shepherd and learned that Jesus is our Good Shepherd and we can trust Him to care for us. Some of us have memorized Psalm 23 and others are still working on it. – Ressie, 2nd grade

Preschool/Kindergarten

This week, the Kindergarten class had a pretty simple week. In Bible they are learning about Daniel and how he chose good foods in the palace. For math, they are learning about money and learning numbers 1-30 and they are practicing addition. They are learning sight words and reading books about their bodies on topics such as bones, muscles, and good food choices. In science, they're learning about the skeleton and My Plate. For music, they sing songs with teacher Jodi. That's what they did this week. – Addie, 7th grade

Childcare/Preschool

Hi, This is Mateo with Preschool News! They learned a new song this week and it's called "Hello Again". Also, they have cool toys they are playing with called melty beads. They are reading a fold out book called In the House. They are reading a Bible story about friendship and called Ruth and Naomi. They like to do Q-tip art too! That's all for this week guys and girls. Have a great weekend! – Mateo, 4th grade

How To: Make a peanut butter and jelly sandwich

Watch the YouTube video called THIS "EXACT INSTRUCTIONS CHALLENGE" IS SO HILARIOUS

and decide if they did a good job giving detailed instructions. Here are my instructions: Get two pieces of bread. Get the peanut butter jar. Get the jelly jar. Get the butter knife, and unscrew the peanut butter jar lid. Put the knife in the peanut butter with the sharp part going in first. Then get one big scoop of peanut butter with the knife and then put it on the white part of one piece of bread. Then spread it on the white part of the bread. Next get the jelly and pour some on the white part of the other piece of bread. Finally, spread it with the knife then put the peanut butter and jelly sides together and eat it! – Cadance, 5th grade
