Today's Service

March 16, 2019

Welcome... to all who have come to worship with the Brunswick Seventh-day Adventist Church today. If you are a guest, please check with one of our Greeters for more information on our beliefs and services.

One of the essential elements of our self-relationship is our own sense of value. EJ Waggoner, an early Adventist writer and Gospel preacher, makes a powerful argument for our value. Maybe his words will bring delight and joy to your own heart. "The price paid was infinite, therefore we know that He very much desired that which He bought. He had His heart set on obtaining [it]. He could not be satisfied without it. See Phil. 2:6-8, Heb. 12:2, Isa. 53:11.

'But I am not worthy.' That means that you are not worth the price paid, and therefore you fear to come lest Christ will repudiate the purchase. Now you might have some fear on that score if the bargain were not sealed, and the price were not already paid. If He should refuse to accept you, on the ground that you are not worth the price, He would not only lose you, but also the amount paid. Even though the goods for which you have paid are not worth what you gave for them, you yourself would not be so foolish as to throw them away. You would rather get some return for your money than get nothing.

But, further, you have nothing to do with the question of worth. When Christ was on the earth in the interest of the purchase, He 'needed not that any should testify of man; for He knew what was in man.' John 2:25. He made the purchase with his eyes open, and He knew the exact value of that which He bought. He is not at all disappointed when you come to Him and He finds that you are worthless. You have not to worry over the question of worth; if He, with His perfect knowledge of the case, was satisfied to make the bargain, you should be the last one to complain.

For, most wonderful truth of all, He bought you for the very reason that you were not worthy. His practiced eye saw in you great possibilities, and He bought you, not for what you were then or are now worth, but for what He could make of you. He says: 'I, even I, am He that blot out thy transgressions for Mine own sake.' Isa. 43:25."

Here's the simple truth: in God's calculation, your value is equated to not less than God's value of himself. You read that right: You are worth more to God, than God is to Himself.
