I hereby authorize Brainfuse and any of its authorized agents to gather information about me regarding all records including criminal, civil, motor vehicle, professional certifications, workers' compensation (as allowed by law), credit, and/or education. I also release all information (salary data, etc.) from previous employers (including governmental agencies, military service, etc.) whether contained in written records or not or any other pertinent information relating to the successful function of my job.

I hereby release Brainfuse from any liability and understand that there is no invasion of personal privacy. Upon receipt of a photocopy of this authorization any such person may accept the photocopy with the same authority as the original authorization.

I hereby confirm that I am an independent contractor engaged in the business of providing tutoring services, and will continue to be considered an independent contractor (and not an employee) while serving as a tutor with Brainfuse. Further, I hereby confirm and acknowledge all of the following:

- I must provide my own computer and Internet connection and Brainfuse does not provide me with materials.
- I choose my own hours and set my own schedule.
- My services are based on student demand; there are no guarantees that I will be matched with students.
- I am free to work as a tutor with any other online or offline companies.
- I may receive variable compensation based on whether a student shows up or not
- Prior to beginning to provide tutoring services on behalf of Brainfuse, Brainfuse expects me to already be proficient in teaching and tutoring.
- I have control over how to teach my students on the Brainfuse platform.
