“As Mary once devoutly sought
The eternal truth, the better part,
And sat, enwrapt in holy thought,
At Jesus’ feet with burning heart,
For naught else craving, yearning for the word
That should be spoken by her Friend, her Lord,
Losing her all in him, his word believing,
And through the One all things again receiving;

“Even so, is all my heart’s desire
Fix’d, dearest Lord, on thee alone.
Oh, make me true and draw me higher,
And make thyself, O Christ, my own!
Though many turn aside to join the crowd,
To follow thee in love my heart is vowed.
Thy Word is life and spirit. Whither go?
What joy is there in thee we cannot know?”
