Mrs. Davidson's Class

This week we started our first reading units. Our theme for the month is heroes. The heroes we are learning about include a horse named Charlie, Abe Lincoln, David (from the Bible), and Noah Webster. Students will be studying what it means to be a true hero, and thinking about who are the heroes in their lives.

With reading, we also started our spelling lessons. Each student has access to the spelling city.com website to practice their words at home, in addition to the time spent in class. There will be a spelling test each Friday over the words practiced that week. Please be sure your student is getting the practice they need by quizzing them on their words throughout the week.

We are continuing our archaeology theme in Bible class by digging in the Bible for the story of salvation and learning what God's plan is for the human race, the steps he took to redeem us, and what happens when we accept his invitation.

In Science, we are learning about animal classifications, how animals move, the process of natural selection, and the differences between micro- and macro-evolution. The upper grades just finished their first chapter in social studies, about what historians do. The lower grades have been learning about how things have changed over time, and started learning about some of the holidays we observe and their significance.

Have a great weekend!

Teacher Martha's Class

We have learned a story about Nico & Lola.... About kindness shared between a boy and his dog. We are learning ways to be kind in the classroom.

We also learned about Jonah and the whale and how God loves us even if we run away. He will do whatever it takes to bring us back to Him.

This week we had reading logs sent home so we can read at home with our parents too. Parents, please make sure you read with your child! It is one of our most important things to do for reading....

Teacher Holly's Class

This week has been busy, matching and labeling various animals as we learn about how God created the world. Imagine being able to say "Let there be..." and having it appear!!!!

We have also discussed how God made our bodies just right. With all the things we need to enjoy the world He created for us.

Blocks, water table and art have been the favorites this year so far. It is amazing how much learning happens as they play. Discovering how tall they can stack blocks before they fall, which blocks it takes to make a ramp for the cars to roll the farthest, learning to mix colors to create new/different ones, how much glue it takes to make pasta stick to the paper, the joy of squeezing glue for the sake of squeezing. The water table also provided opportunity to squeeze sponges as they fill the cups. The children have no idea that squeezing is building their muscles for writing, blocks
