Acknowledgement

The family of Norma J. Lloyd wishes to express our thanks and sincere appreciation for all acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during our time of bereavement.

May God bless each and every one of you

Honoring my wishes

My homecoming was planned by me with the assistance of my children.

While it was difficult to abandon some traditions, it was my wish and expectation that my homecoming be carried out in its entirety, in a manner that felt right for me.

Thank you in advance for your understanding and please respect my children's need for privacy during this time of grief.

Thank you,
Norma Jean Lloyd

IN LOVING MEMORY

Norma Jean Lloyd

March 16, 1941 – December 5, 2023

In My Own Words

I tried to live a life that was guided by angels; however, I am human and as such, my actions may not have always followed a heavenly path.

For those that I may have hurt or offended, I am truly sorry. I hope that you will forgive me and know that I never meant to hurt anyone.

To My Best Friends & Family

I love and will miss the uniqueness of each one of you. Thank you for being there and "For keeping it real".

Don't cry, just smile, and reflect on all the good memories which are priceless.

It is my belief, that I will see you all again in heaven. So, until then.....

With Love,
Norma J. Lloyd

Open Letter to Momma

This letter is to thank you for giving us life and making our life worth living. This is not goodbye, because we know in our heart that we will see you again. You have never deserted us in our time of need and your love for us was never in question.

I thank God for blessing us with the best Mom that anyone could ever ask for.

Thank you for sharing your wisdom, providing advice, offering words of encouragement, and always making sure that we were ready for life's challenges.

You have always been our inspiration and will continue to motivate us in spirit.

We love you and look forward to reuniting in heaven.

With Love,
Frank, Sharon, Derrick
