LATEST NEWS FROM SQUASH AUSTRALIA

CUSKELLY TO HEADLINE PITTSBURGH OPEN

Australia's Ryan Cuskelly will start as number one seed for the Three Rivers Capital Pittsburgh Open.

The World No. 14 is on the same side of the draw as Hong Kong's World No.26 Leo Au, Mexico's World No.30 Cesar Salazar and France's World No.32 Gregoire Marche and could face Switzerland's second seed Nicolas Mueller in the final.

Cuskelly has had a mixed start to 2019, reaching the quarter finals of the Motor City Open (colliding with Diego Elias in the first point of the match and eventually having to retire trailing 7-11 9-11) and the second round of the Tournament of Champions in New York (beaten by Germany's Simon Rosner 4-11 8-11 9-11).

PILLEY MAKES STRONG START TO 2019

Australia's Cameron Pilley has made a strong start to the season, reaching the third round of the Tournament of Champions in New York.

Pilley defeated Nathan Lake (ENG) 12-10 11-9 11-6 in the first round, before backing up to beat Tom Richards (ENG) 11-3 11-7 11-5 in round two.

Cameron's run came to an end at the hands of Diego Elias, with the Peruvian winning 11-9 11-8 5-11 11-7.

BEGA TO HOST 2019 AUSTRALIAN OPEN

The New South Wales town of Bega will play host to Squash's Australian Open Championships in 2019, with Squash Australia confirming that the Bega Squash Club would host the event.

The Australian Open will feature in a massive June/July calendar that also features the WSF World Doubles, Australian Doubles Championships and Australian National Championships on the Gold Coast.

Bega Squash Club president John Stylianou says he is thrilled to be able to stage the major event.

"This is a massive deal, it's the Australian title and a major international event.

"With an event of this calibre we'll be anticipating entries from more than a dozen countries around the globe.

"This is an incredible result for a small club like ours."

Entries to open closer to the event.

NOTICEBOARD

GEOFF HUNT JOINS OLYMPIC PUSH

Australian Squash legend Geoff Hunt has joined the push to help get Squash into the 2024 Olympic Games in Paris.

The International Olympic Committee will meet this year to decide what events will be added for the competition in France. Squash Australia has contributed heavily to the World Squash Federation (WSF) and Professional Squash Association (PSA) campaign to get our sport into the Olympics, but we need your help to fundraise.

You can donate to the campaign, with every donation above $2 tax deductible. Head to Squash.org.au for more details.
