For Today

The Kindness of Jesus

In Matthew 6:26, Jesus tells us to look at the birds of the air. He intones that “they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they?”

It’s a powerful passage about worry and the future. Have you ever thought about how common birds are? Several occupy my backyard, and they sing all day and most of the night. They are in the bushes and the trees and the grass and everywhere.

You probably have birds near your house, too. You can find them on every continent. In fact, scientists estimate there are 200 to 400 billion birds on the planet.

Have you ever thought about the kindness of Jesus, using birds as his example?

He could have picked the clouded snow leopard. There are less than 10,000 of them.

Or the Javan rhino. There are only 60 or so of those.

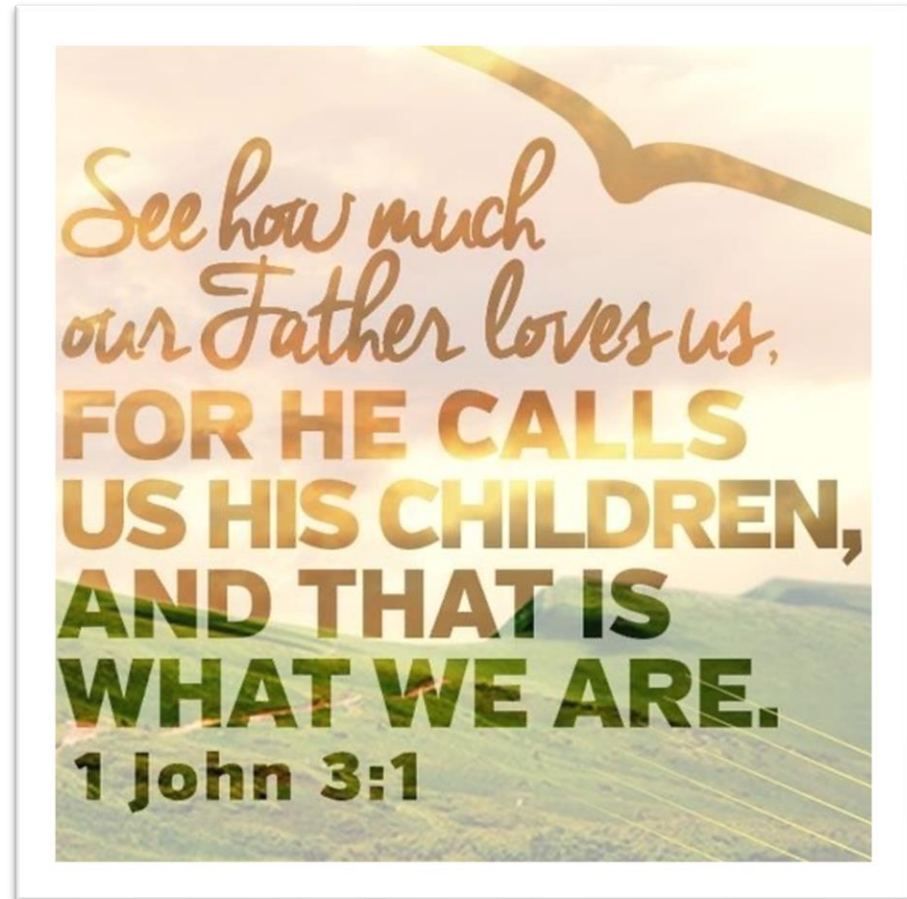

Or the hairy-nosed wombat. There are only about 120 of those.

He could have picked any rare animal in the world, but he didn’t. Instead, He picked one that blankets the globe. One you’d find in Antarctica or hundreds of miles out to sea. One you can see in the city or the suburbs, the desert or the jungle. He picked one that’s everywhere.

Why? Because that’s where God’s love for you is too. Look at the birds.

Benediction

Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world. But when the fullness of the time had come, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, that we might receive the adoption as sons. And because you are sons, God has sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying out, "Abba, Father!" Therefore, you are no longer a slave but a son, and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

Galatians 4:3-7 NKJV
