Tomorrow Wasn't Promised

They say there is always a reason and in due time pain will heal but neither time nor reason will change the way I feel
If I could have you back just for a little while to sit, to talk and make you smile;
I promise to share the love that you would give
But God called you home for it is His will ...

Death woke me up, and it hit me today
for tomorrow wasn't promised
for my grandma who passed away.

As I struggle with the heartache of another day
the loss of my grandma who could not stay
My heart began to race, my eyes became blind.
Because my angel just crossed this life's finished line,
I feel so wronged and all along,
but I know from God we come to and to Him we belong.

Death woke me up, and it hit me today
for tomorrow wasn't promised
for my grandma who passed away.

She never let anger get in the way with words we as people forget to say...
"Are you ok, hey beautiful, I'm sorry, forgive me give me a hug, I Love you"
Life is too short to forget those words.

But Death woke me up and it hit me today.
For tomorrow wasn't promised
for my grandma who passed away

You received your halo as your golden crown
so it's time to turn my frown upside down.
It's time to let go now and again we shall meet.
I miss and love you deeply grandma, you're now at peace.

Death woke me up and it hit me today.
for tomorrow wasn't promised
for my grandma who passed away.

FOREVER IN OUR HEARTS

Her Life Story

Elaine Taylor who was born to the late Eddie Garner and Willie Mae Berry on November 12, 1938, departed this life Saturday, May 4, 2024.

She was educated and graduated in the Richland, SC School District where she later moved to Philadelphia and attended Berean Institute becoming a licensed Cosmetologist. Elaine was always searching for more wisdom and knowledge attending Philadelphia Community College and various of Bible institutes where she gained many certificates.

Upon this journey, she united in Holy Matrimony to the late Robert Taylor. To this union, children Isaac Taylor and Yolanda Taylor-Roach were born. From her previous union she was blessed with two sons, Pierre Boyer, Andre Boyer and daughter Monique Boyer-Smith of which Pierre Boyer and Monique Boyer-Smith precedes her in death.

Elaine worked as a hairdresser at Lucile's Salon, Philadelphia Liquor Control Board, Whitman Chocolates and IRS where she retired with over 40 years on December 31, 2022.

She accepted Christ at an early age and through her Christian experience attended other churches. She finally made her decision and destination at Greater Ebenezer Baptist Church and became a member of the missionaries. Elaine was a faithful servant and leader for many years.

Elaine leaves to mourn with cherished memories two sons: Chief Andre Boyer of Philadelphia, PA and Isaac Taylor of Dover, Delaware; stepson, Jerry Taylor of Philadelphia, PA; one daughter, Yolanda Taylor-Roach of Blythewood, SC and stepdaughter, Ann Rodgers of Philadelphia, PA; three sisters, Carol, Diane and Denise Berry all of Philadelphia, PA; three daughters in love, Cheryl Boyer, Amy Boyer and Teresa Collick-Taylor; 18 grandchildren, 21 great grands and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and many friends.

Lovingly Submitted,
