The Geography of the Tattoo Parlor - Long Island, New York

Dr. Emily A. Fogarty Farmingdale State College

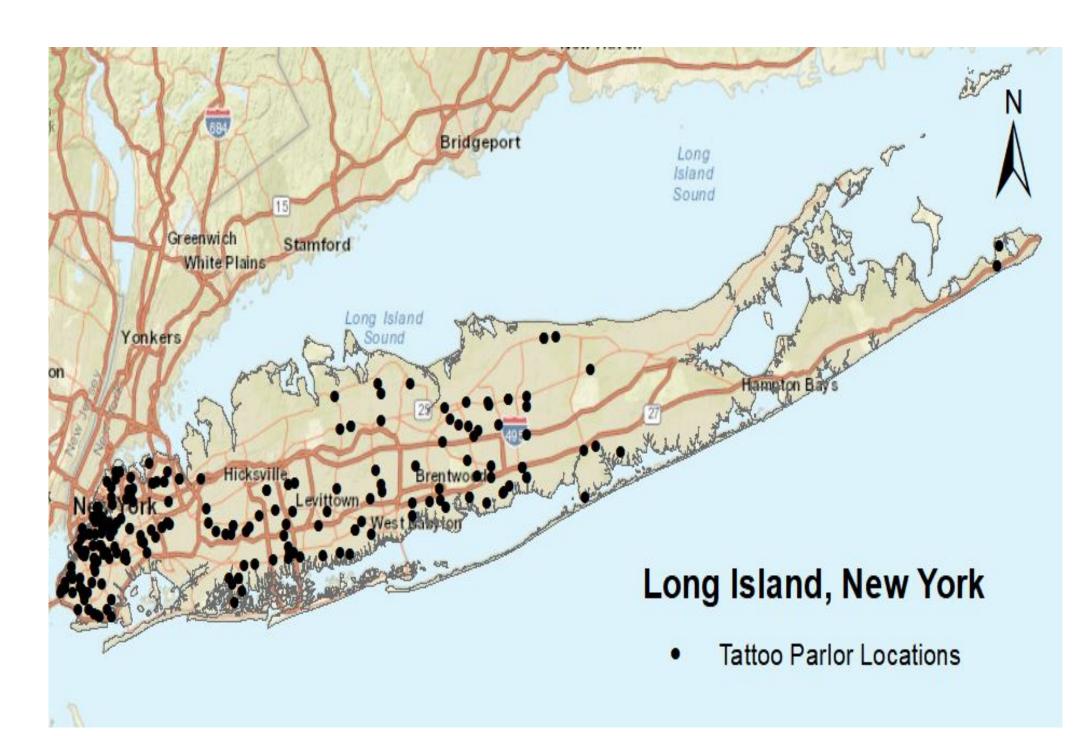

Objectives

This researcher seeks to create a user and industry-friendly share-point that would allow for the establishment of a verifiable data source of locations along with a list of corresponding attribute data for participating tattooing spaces/artists. The initial study maps out the known tattoo parlors found on Long Island and seeks to answer the following questions:

- What is the spatial distribution of the tattoo parlors found on Long Island?
- Where are the parlor locations on Long Island compared to the major roads, demographic and economic layers of information?

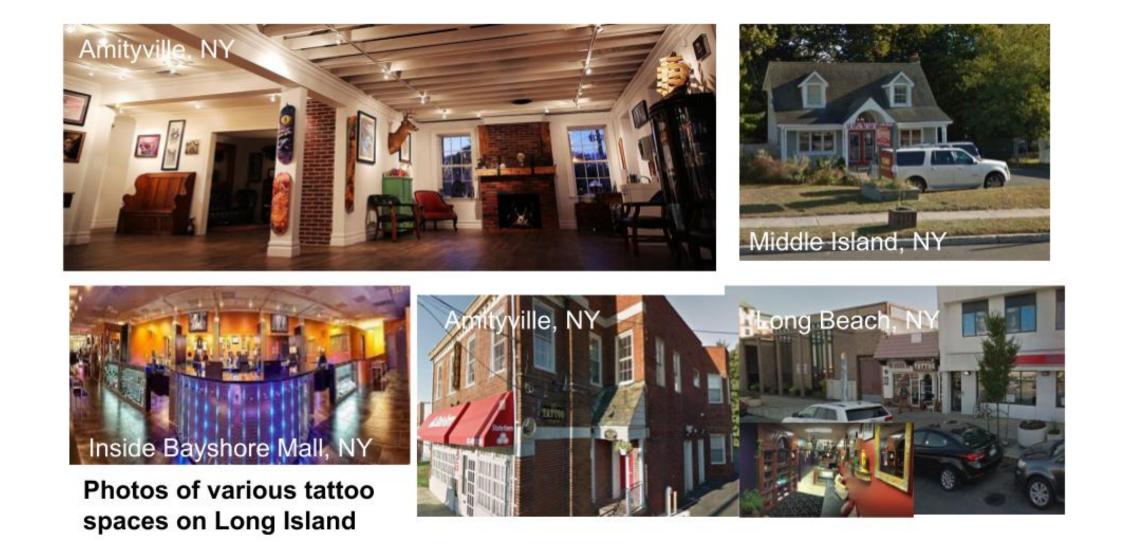

Introduction

Tattoo consumption in American mainstream society has increased in popularity, thereby generating the need for a verified map cataloging the tattoo artists and tattooing spaces found in the United States. This geographic investigation begins with a map of the tattoo parlors found on Long Island, New York. This researcher seeks to establish a user and industry-friendly share-point (with a map) that would serve as a verifiable source of locations along with corresponding attribute data (e.g. shop type, artist contact information and type of genre/style available) for participating tattooing spaces/artists.

Analysis

- · Primary roads are generally divided, limited-access highways within the Federal interstate highway system or under state management. These highways are distinguished by the presence of interchanges and are accessible by ramps and may include some toll highways.
- The primary and secondary roads shapefile contains all linear street features with MTFCCs of "S1100" or "S1200" in the MAF/TIGER database. The shapefiles are provided at a state geographic extent and in linear elemental feature geometry.
- Secondary roads (used in this study) are main arteries, usually in the and driveways. They often have both a local name and a route number

Explanation of Major Roads Data

Conclusion

This research is just starting out, therefore a poster presentation is a useful way to provide valuable preliminary information on the spatial distribution of tattoo shops and to spark interesting discussions with conference attendees regarding the cultural landscape of tattoos, tattoo artists, and tattoo parlors.

Future Work

- Categorize the parlor types.
- Create a verified tattoo artists location list.
- Survey artists at their locations and/or at tattoo conventions.
- Survey the clients, those receiving tattoos, at tattoo establishments and at conventions.

Data Sources

- U.S. Census Bureau. 2017 TIGER/Line Shapefiels: Roads.
- Tattoo parlor locations were found using combination of data collected from Suffolk County, Nassau County and querying the Google Maps for "tattoo shops" for all four counties on Long Island.
- Maps were created using ArcGIS software/data by Esri. ArcGIS and ArcMap are the intellectual property of Esri and are used herein under license. Copyright Esri. All rights reserved. For more information about Esri software, please visit www.esri.com.
