Life Reflections

Once upon a time, in a land not so far away lived a Queen who resided in a small palace with her five royal children named Brandon W Griswold, Constance A. Wright, Jerode G. Jackson, Tenae J. Jackson, and Prince Lucious C. Bush.

With all the little voices that filled her palace, the Queen still felt that life wasn't complete. The Queen's heart's desire to be whole was felt by God, and on a beautiful fall day, October 24, 1993, Tina Jeanette Griswold and Jimmy J. Bush were blessed with a Beautiful Princess named Tiahnna Conniese Bush.

Through her beautiful smile and one-of-a-kind personality, Princess Tiahnna was sent by heaven to spread love, joy, and happiness wherever she went. She touched all hearts that were blessed to know her along the way. Princess Tiahnna came from a big family whom she loved and adored very much. They each shared a special bond and connection with the beautiful gem.

Unknowingly, on 3/31/2004, Princess Tiahnna would have to face one of life's greatest battles- the tragic loss of her mother and it left an unimaginable void. Many thought that losing her Queen at such a tender age would send her spiraling into the darkness of doom, but Princess Tiahnna would prevail by continuing her mission of spreading love, joy, and happiness to all the people of the land.

Throughout her mission, she stumbled across a villain known as Lupus. Lupus had the most evil intentions, seeking to attack her body while also attempting to steal, kill, and destroy her spirit within. Lupus knew that if he attacked the Princess in such ways that it would ruin her beautiful essence. However, what Lupus did not know is that Princess Tiahnna was not so easily broken. The Princess would fight the battle with Lupus for nine long years, gracefully and lovingly.

Sadly, the people of the land would soon learn of the end of the battle with Lupus, on May 17, 2023. On this day, Princess Tiahnna would complete her mission and reunite with her Mother, Tina Jeanette Griswold. Princess Tiahnna's sister Christina Wright, Maternal Grandfather Sylvester Kirk, and Maternal Great Grandparents Lucious and Corrina "Madear" Bush would also be awaiting her heavenly arrival.

Although saddened by the passing of their beloved Princess, the people of the land will live on to cherish the very loving and vibrant memories of her.

Princess Tiahnna leaves to cherish her memories, Husband, Billy Attaway; Father, Jimmy Bush; Grandparents, Walter and Norma Mathis; five Brothers, Brandon Griswold, Jerode Jackson, Lucious Bush, James Bush, and Jason Swanson; sisters, Constance Wright, Tenae Jackson, Decarla Bush and Kiara Bush; Nineteen nieces, Brandi Griswold, Dazonni Griswold, Kenya Gray, Skylar Jackson, Kylie Jackson, Jeriah Jackson, Anaiya Brown, Amiya Brown, Zamaya Looney, Lyric Simpson, Xiomara Johnson, Jamera Johnson, Gervae Pounds, Kaniyah Bush, and Beumonii Bush; eight nephews, Dezvian Griswold, Tailan Jackson, Jerode Jackson Jr., LaDamien Wright, Alexander Bush, Aaron Smith, Morkell Smith, Mondell Smith Jr., Mario Bush and Legacy Bush, and a host of Aunts, Uncles, Cousins, God Sister, Artrinae Mourning, and God Daughter, Aleena Vann.

My auntie, big sister & friend. I grew up admiring you beautiful, that's something that will never change. You fought a long hard fight, I know you were tired no more enduring pain it's all over baby girl you are finally at peace. Your sweet pure soul, your amazing smile and soft voice could light up the darkest room, I can still hear that small chuckle now. Anytime I've ever called you if you could you showed up with no questions asked, when it mattered the most. I will forever miss and cherish every moment that we have made together from packing up all the cousins like Mexicans to go to the park, stepping out of the school line every time I saw my TT to give you a hug, to our long conversations about any and everything. I can't seem to come to terms with telling you goodbye, so I won't. You're forever with me, I'll see you later my angel.

As I lay here awaiting the moment God calls me home, I have hidden pain, agony, and loneliness I feel. I fought hard for my family so you wouldn't be sad or hurt, but I know my time has come. The mission God asked of me here on earth is now complete. I showed the purest form of love and kindness without judgment while being a bright light in the darkness to many.

Please understand that I will miss you just as much as you will miss me, and I'd give anything to stop your tears from falling. But I am with you always and now resting with my mother. You have two angels now, one on each side to carry you through the hard times. I hope you will keep pushing and fighting through the bad days by remembering my strength on this journey.

I have my wings now, and I am so happy- It brings me so much peace. So, this isn't goodbye because I know we will meet again. I love you all.
