Remembering the Life of

Judith “Judy” Harmon

1939 ~ 2019

When tomorrow starts without me, and I'm not there to see, if the sun should rise and find your eyes all filled with tears for me

I wish so much you wouldn't cry the way you did today, while thinking of many things we didn't get to say. I know how much you love me, as much as I love you, and each time you think of me, I know you miss me too, but when tomorrow starts without me, please try to understand, that an angel came, and called my name and took me by the hand, and said my place was ready, and heaven far above, and that I have to leave behind all those I have to love, but as I turn to walk away, a tear falls from my eye, for all my life I always thought, I didn't want to die. I had so much to live for, so much left yet to do. It seemed almost impossible. That I was leaving you,

I thought of all the yesterdays the good ones and the bad, the thought of all the love we shared, and all the fun we had, If I could relive yesterday, just even for awhile, I'd say good-bye and kiss you, and maybe see you smile, but then I finally realize, that this could never be, for emptiness and memories would take place for me, and when I thought of worldly things, I might miss come tomorrow, I thought of you and when I did. My heart was filled with sorrow, but when I walk through heavens gates I felt so much at home. When God looked down and smiled at me, from his golden throne. He said: "This is Eternity, and all I've promised you today, your life on earth has passed but here it starts anew.
